vecci business relief fund

While Government financial assistance is being made available to businesses directly destroyed or damaged by fire, those indirectly impacted are not eligible for assistance.

So many businesses that rely on local customers are suffering a substantial or complete loss of trade, even though their operations may not have been physically damaged or destroyed.

Business support for the Red Cross Appeal has been magnificent. But business-to-business support is now desperately needed by indirectly affected businesses to enable them to keep trading and help re-build shattered local economies.

The VECCI Business Relief Fund has been established to provide short-term emergency financial support for businesses adversely affected by natural disasters.

We need your help to help those businesses that are distressed through no fault of their own.

Donations of any value will be most welcome.

As a guide, however, you may wish to consider donations relative to your business capacity as follows:

- $10 per employee
- $20 per employee
- $50 per employee
- $100 per employee

Again, any donations will be most welcome to support your business colleagues.

Please help support your business colleagues by making a donation using the form that follows. Or visit vecci.org.au for further details.
